DETAILED ACTION

1. The previous Restriction Requirement has been withdrawn and a new Restriction/Election requirement is submitted.

Election/Restrictions

2. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-3, drawn to a method of producing a CuZnAlZr oxide catalyst and catalyst thereof, classified in class 502, subclass 355.
 - II. Claim 4, drawn to a CuZnZrCe oxide catalyst, classified in class 502, subclass 304.
 - III. Claim 5, drawn to a CoCuZnAl oxide catalyst, classified in class 502, subclass 346.
 - IV. Claims 6-8, drawn to method for producing hydrogen gas, classified in class 423, subclass 652.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

- a. Inventions I and II are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are directed to different products.
- b. Inventions I and III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are directed to different products.

- c. Inventions I and IV are related as process of making, product, and process of using the product. In the instant case the use as claimed can be practiced with a materially different product.
- d. Inventions II and III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are directed to different products.
- e. Inventions II and IV are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the process of using (i.e. Method of producing hydrogen gas) can be practiced with a materially different product such as CuZnAlZr or CoCuZnAl.
- f. Inventions III and IV are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the process of using (i.e. Method of producing hydrogen gas) can be practiced with a materially different product such as CuZnZrCe or CuZnAlZr.

g. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification; the search required for each independent group is different from the other; and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

3. Claims 6-8 are generic to a plurality of disclosed patentably distinct species comprising CuZnAlZr oxide catalyst; CuZnZrCe oxide catalyst; and CoCuZnAl oxide catalyst. Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species, even though this requirement is traversed.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

4. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

5. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
